E. R. GENTRY IN GERMANY

Bitburg, Germany.
Jan. 3, 1919.

Mr. E. S. Albright,
Mt. Vernon, Ky.
Dear Edgar:—

I suppose if I were writing an article for publication, I would style this letter "In the Enemy's Country". I left Paris on the night of Dec 26th, going by way of Chateau-Thierry, Chalon, Eprenay and Toul, reaching Nancy at ten o'clock the next day. I spent a couple of hours in Nancy getting baggage re-checked and additional movement orders and left there for Metz at a little after 12 o'clock. I was mighty glad to have this daylight ride across the old battle line, or rather lines, north of Metz and for once I was glad to be on a French train which ran slow, stopped often and stood a long time when it stopped. I was in the same compartment with a Lieutenant who knew the country well and it was my first ride in a German coach, being one of those recently turned over to the Allies. There has been a great deal written about the devastation and destruction caused by war, but no one can adequately describe it. After all I have read and what I had already seen, I had no real conception of a battle field. For miles we could only see the effect caused by air raids and bursting shells, towns destroyed and great shell holes every where. Then came the towns which were right at the front, the last on the French side being Pagny, a town of possibly a couple of thousand people and completely destroyed. I do not believe there was a house in it which was left decent to live in. From South of this place for several miles the railroad communication had been cut of course since the beginning of the war and the road destroyed. It has been rebuilt since the armistice was signed. For several miles the battle line had extended along this railroad with the French and American trenches on one side and the Germans on the other. While Engineers were rebuilding rail roads and blown up bridges as fast as possible the trenches and dugouts are just about as they were left as the Germans retreated. In many places the lines of barbed wire entanglements were only short distance apart. It seemed almost unbelievable to me that intricate system of trenches and lines of wire entanglement continued on and on for hundreds of miles along that great battle front. There are still great ammunition dumps containing literally millions of all kinds of shells still along here and all along the railroad lines were American soldiers. The roads are lined with miles of camouflage both on the Allies' side of the line and the Germans because it must be remembered that they knew how to camouflage as well as we. In one place I noticed what appeared to be a small hill but the Lieutenant told me it was all camouflage and that beneath it could be hidden hundreds of men and tons of ammunition. At another place a narrow gauged railway led up to a hill and entered a dugout where the officer said two regiments of our soldiers had been concealed in little underground city. It was practically the same on the German side of the line. Great shell holes everywhere, growing larger and fewer right to the gates of Metz, which we reached after four o'clock. We had until seven o'clock to get out of there but as it soon got dark we saw very little of the city. I had a good supper in a restaurant near the station among a cosmopolitan group of people as you could find. I ate at the same table with some American soldiers and a civilian Frenchman. The waitress spoke both French and German; an English and Belgian officer sat at another table near a group of Italian soldiers who were having the time of their lives, while at another table four Germans talk glibly in Dutch. From Metz I went to Coblenz by way of Trier (called Treves by the French) reaching Coblenz about 11:30 at night. You know I used to be afraid to get into Locleville in the night unless I had a room reserved, fearing that I would get no place to stay, but thanks to the last nine months I have gotten over that until getting into Coblenz, a city of around sixty thousand at midnight did not worry me. You know in this war life there is always the opportunity to just not go to bed. I knew I would not be admitted to any hotel without an order from the U. S. billeting officer, so after about an hour's walk, I located him, only to be told that every available place was filled. While I was standing there scratching my head, two Captains and a Lieutenant came in on the same errand as myself and received the same kind of a reception. While we were pondering on a good place to stay up the billeting officer had an idea. He said he had beds reserved at a certain place for two Colonels and two Majors and we might risk taking them. The Captains said they thought they could be Colonels for the night if the Lieutenant and I could take the part of Majors. As I had sat up all night on the train the night before, I was ready for anything, so after another half mile walk and the help of two German policemen we found the place in a private home. We sounded the alarm and after a time a middle aged woman came to the door who spoke fairly good English and received us kindly. She put us to bed inquiring if we would breakfast there the next morning which I did. I do not know what became of the officers. The next day I was sent to another German home where I spent three nights. You know under the terms of the armistice, the German government must furnish this lodging and it is done in this way and is free to members of the A. E. F. Coblenz is the headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. with the army of occupation. I spent three days there before I was assigned for work. The people where I stayed ran over themselves to be kind to me, bringing me coffee to my room in the morning, and also in the afternoon if I happened to be in the room and always refusing to take a cent for it. The fact is they are doing all they can to please the Americans, because they expect something, and are pinning their faith to the Americans to save themselves, but they will never escape the full responsibility of this war and I do not believe they will fool even the American soldiers by their forced kindness. When I see it, it only brings to my mind that only a few months ago these same people were parading these same streets with bands playing and flags flying because the news had reached them that their infernal submarines had sunk another ship load of innocent women and children, or Red Cross nurses and wounded soldiers. Why, while I was in Coblenz I saw post card pictures of the retreating German army as it passed through with flying colors and the population covering them with flowers and waving handkerchiefs just as though they were victors. Instead of a bunch of whipped cubs. There has come no change of heart that quick. They curse the Kaiser and yet you will find his picture in nearly every room of their home and their radio, also, contains his picture on the cover. President Wilson may be right in saying there is a difference in between the German people and the German government, but as far as making full and just reparation for every German expense caused by this war, there can be no difference. They must pay to the last dollar and they can do it. They have their industries in tact. Their cities have not been destroyed. With the exception of a few towns they are in better shape for food than either him and was certainly glad to see him. He told me there were some Rockcastle boys in this old fort across the Rhine, but I only had a short time before my pass over the river was out, I did not get to see them. I saw one other but as I did not know him very well at home cannot call his name. I crossed over the river in a ferry but as I came back I walked the old pontoon bridge which is one of the oldest things about the town and pictures of which you have doubtless seen many times. On the last day of the year, I was sent up here to Bitburg a little town several Kilometres from the Luxemburg border and almost due north of Trier (Treves). I caught a daylight ride from Coblenz up the Moselle to Trier and it is wonderful ride. The railroad winds right up the beautiful river, the banks of which look almost like cliffs for hundreds of feet. It does not look like a goat, much less a man could get up them and yet these Germans have terraced those banks from the high water mark up and have them covered with vineyards. In the first place I do not see how they have done it and then how in the world it can pay for the outlay of money and labor necessary to do it. I do not like this country or the people. One thing I suppose is that I had just gotten to where I could get around among the French with the few words I had picked up and now I am simply thrown into another world as far as language is concerned and can not even ask for a drink of water. I certainly hope I will not have to stay long. I am to be attached to the 314th ammunition train of the 89th division who are located about eight miles out of this town. The 89th claims they will be the first of this part of the army to go home and I certainly hope so, because I think that will at least give me a chance to get back into France. This is a mighty long letter, but will possibly be the last one I will write you at least for a long time. I want to give everybody my very best wishes for a happy new year. One of the big things that is worrying me now is that I cannot charter a ship, so I can bring all my friends a souvenir. Just learned that Will Robinson was down at Trier, a short distance from here. You find our boys everywhere. When it is all known you are going to find that our Rockcastle soldiers have made a record of which we need not be ashamed. I knew they would do it. With best wishes for all, I am, as ever,

E. R. GENTRY.

MASS MEETING.

The Mass Meeting or better term, the Anti-Bootleggers Meeting held at Court house Monday afternoon, brought as large if not the largest crowd ever assembled in that room Dr. M. Pennington, Chairman of the Council of Defense, presided. Rev. L. N. Fowling of Brodhead opened the meeting with prayer. Judge B. J. Bethurum and Judge W. N. Flippin made strong appeals to the people to help break up the whiskey traffic. They said the courts can not do it without the help of the people. The following resolutions were then presented by John Rocins, of Brodhead, who moved their adoption, which motion was seconded by Judge L. W. Bethurum who also urged in strong terms all efforts to do away with whiskey. A number of two minute speeches followed by Rev. Master, Rev. H. T. Young, Squire W. D. Mullins, G. S. Griffin, Judge Cam Mullins, W. H. Jones, U. G. Baker and others, whose names we failed to get. The vote on the resolutions offered, was taken and unanimously adopted. The resolutions are as follows:

Whereas it is a violation of law to sell whiskey in Rockcastle County, or to carry whiskey into the County, except for personal use, and it is apparent that this law is being flagrantly violated, we beg to submit the following resolutions to the Citizens of our County in mass convention assembled.

1. Be it resolved that we offer our help and assistance to all Courts having jurisdiction to bring all violators of this law to justice; that we pledge ourselves to make reports giving witnesses, in order that the Courts may be able to investigate any and all violations of this law; that we give our undivided moral support to any legitimate move to suppress the sale of whiskey in Rockcastle County.

2. Be it resolved that we hereby request all Courts to use all possible diligence in enforcing the statutory laws with reference to the sale or carrying any intoxicating liquor into this local option territory.

3. Be it resolved that we use our influence to build up public sentiment and arouse the people to a sense of their duty, and make this sentiment so strong that it will be impossible for any one to violate this law without being immediately apprehended and punished; that we be diligent and co-operative to such an extent that no one can be under the influence of whiskey or any intoxicating liquor in this county without being punished therefor to the full extent of the law.

4. Be it resolved that we lend our assistance to the District Federal Court and to the United States Deputy Marshall in a way to make it impossible for anyone to run a still for the making of moonshine whiskey anywhere within this county, that we will support the Deputy Marshall in a that he will be able to apprehend and destroy every distillery set up for making moonshine whiskey in this county, or in any of the counties adjacent thereto.

5. Be it resolved that a Committee be here appointed that will consist of at least one man in each voting precinct in the county, and that said man, or men, make weekly reports to some civil officer having jurisdiction in said precinct, and we request that said officers summon witnesses on information furnished and have weekly sittings to investigate infractions of the law and issue warrants in every instance that it is apparent that the law has been violated, and that the Circuit Court be requested to hold the Grand Jury in session at each term of the Circuit Court until they may thoroughly investigate all cases of alleged violations of this law.

6. Be it resolved that we denounce gambling; the concealed deadly weapon practice and do we especially condemn jury and false swearing prevalent in this community, and promise to be active in the prosecution of these and all other infractions of the law, to the end that Rockcastle County may become a better and more secure place in which to live.

The above Resolutions were unanimously adopted at the Mass Meeting at the Court House on Monday February 3rd.

We, the Committee at the Court House in Mt. Vernon on February 3rd to represent the Civic League, a part of the Council of Defense of Rockcastle County after due consideration have appointed the following men to carry out the citizens part of Resolution No. 5 adopted at the Mass Meeting by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrh deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrh Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

Too much care cannot be exercised in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful drug and most effectual in curing their coughs and colds. Long experience has shown that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these conditions. It is a favorite with many mothers.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

13 Dollars—13 Cents

When Swift & Company paid, say,—13 dollars per hundredweight for live beef cattle last year, the profit was only 13 cents! In other words, if we had paid $13.13, we would have made no profit.

Or, if we had received a quarter of a cent per pound less for dressed beef we would have made no profit.

It is doubtful whether any other business is run on so close a margin of profit.

This is bringing the producer and the consumer pretty close together—which should be the object of any industry turning raw material into a useful form.

This remarkable showing is due to enormous volume, perfected facilities (packing plants strategically located, branch houses, refrigerator cars, etc.), and an army of men and women chosen and trained to do their special work.

This, and many other points of interest, are found in the Swift & Company Year Book for 1919, just published which is brought out for the public as well as for the 25,000 Swift & Company shareholders.

The Year Book also represents the packer's side of the Federal Trade Commission investigation, upon which Congress is asked to base action against the industry.

Many who have never heard the packer's side are sending for the Year Book.

Though an unintentional oversight, but something for which we never expect forgiveness, we failed to have last issue the expected and very much deserved mention of the entertainment given by the Willing Workers at the Graded School Chapel on the previous Friday night. We have not had anything by local talent that was enjoyed more. Every number on the program brought a hearty applause from the large crowd which filled the chapel to its capacity and the meeting of the Willing Workers, simply brought down the house. About $35 in receipts was realized, which was very satisfactory both for the cause that it is intended and to the good women who were very anxious to make it a success. All money which goes into the hands of the Willing Workers is sure to be used right and for a noble purpose, and for that reason we always rejoice to know their efforts are rewarded.

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

It is the opinion of people generally that the Mass Meeting at the Court House on Monday did a great deal of good in the way of arousing people to a sense of duty and making them more determined to suppress bootlegging.

The organization as outlined at that meeting is not complete and cannot be completed until we have a meeting of the committee-men and organize the committee for the County, and then organize each voting precinct. To perfect this organization, it is deemed necessary to call a meeting at the Court House in Mt. Vernon, February 15th, at 1 p.m. We shall expect every man who is on the Committee whose name appears elsewhere in this paper to be present, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

This meeting will prove how general the interest is in suppressing bootlegging, and the absence of any of those men who have been elected on the committee will indicate that they have not the interest they should have in this great movement.

The fact that it is apparent that the United States is going dry in 1920 is no reason why we should fold our hands and put up with the lawlessness that now exists waiting for the Government to control the situation.

When the citizens of Rockcastle County have done their duty, bootlegging will be suppressed, and not until then.

FOR SALE:—Oliver No. 5 and one Underwood Typewriter, also good heating stove, all in good condition. Will sell sight.

You read in last week's Signal that I had bought the Main street restaurant. I have been too busy this week feeding the people to write an ad, but just keep on following the crowd to the popular Main Street Restaurant, where we serve hot and cold lunches with good Old Kentucky hospitality.
JOHN KENNER, Prop.

A new precedent has been set by the present Grand Jury and that is in having that body opened with prayer, before organization. This custom should have been practiced long ago, but it has not, so let us hope it will be in the future. Rev. W. D. Mullins, the Magistrate from the 5th district bears the distinction of being the first minister to open that body in Rockcastle with prayer.

Good heavy work shirts 90 cts at Drummond's store.

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION.

There are people who never have a movement of the bowels without it is produced by a cathartic. Most of them have bought that condition on themselves by the use of mineral waters and strong cathartics that take too much water out of the system and aggravate the disease they are meant to relieve. A mild laxative tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets affords a gentle movement of the bowels that you hardly realize has been produced by a medicine, and their use is not so likely to be followed by constipation.

The Boone Way Man received a much valued Christmas present in the way of a fine Hamilton watch movement, which was placed in the heavy coin silver case the old road scout has been carrying for the past 36 years. The donor was Mr. J. T. Welch, Secretary - Treasurer - General manager of the Independent Packers Fertilizer Co., Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Welch had some assistance rendered him by Mr. M. when he took a course in a Louisville commercial school some 33 years since. This is not the first instance of his remembrance to his old preceptor. "Jack" never forgets a favor shown.
Col. Maret has assisted fifteen boys in his day, into business life, and is proud of it, even tho only seven of them ever showed their appreciation, possibly just taking it for granted, and in the hurly burly of life let the matter slip their memories, or misundersanding the value of assistance at the proper time in early age. "Jack" Welch is a brother of Richard, at Mt. Vernon, and of Mrs. J. E. Vowels, Middlesboro, and Mrs. Katie Linton, Louisville. He has had great success in his line of endeavor, and besides holding the responsible positions he does, owns a large block of stock of his company, of which he was one of the organizers, leaving a $5,000 position at Louisville, a number of years since for that purpose.

DOLLARS AND CENTS.

Counting it only in dollars and cents, how much did that last cold cost you? A man may not always stop work when he has a cold, but perhaps it would be better if he did. It takes about ten days to get rid of a cold under the usual treatment. That time can be much shortened by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and proper care of yourself, in fact, a bottle of this remedy in the house is a mighty good investment during the winter and spring months.
